Bulletin Title: Update on Auditing for Initial Applicants in the United States

Inquiries: certification@aisc.org

To: All Initial Applicants in the United States

In-Person Site Assessments Resume Next Month

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has updated its coronavirus guidance, and we can now resume site assessments for initial applicants in the U.S. All Quality Management Company (QMC) auditors will follow local and state guidance along with any additional requirements asked by you. The auditor will discuss these requirements prior to your site assessment.

Beginning July 1, 2021, all newly scheduled initial applicant audits will be scheduled as site assessments. If you already have an initial audit scheduled as a remote assessment, that audit will be performed remotely. The audit plan you'll receive from the QMC auditor will note the type of audit.
